Building society reviews input

Input from nine organizations on the proposed plans for a new Community Cultural Building was reviewed last Tuesday evening by Building Society members, following a month allowed for discussion by those groups at their regular meetings.

Letters were received from the Elks and OORP Lodges and from the Chamber of Commerce, voicing the concerns brought forth at their meetings. The Elks and OORP cautioned the Society that construction costs might exceed revenue available in the community for such a project, while the finished building might not be able to generate sufficient income from user fees to pay for upkeep. The lodges also felt the hall portion would be in competition with their own facility, while their lodge room already sits unused a large portion of the time, with no requests for rental. The lodges feel their hall is adequate for 95 percent of the functions held in Elk Point, and that it might be more feasible to consider construction of a complex incorporating that facility.

The Chamber says they are unable to support a Community Cultural Centre either financially or by use, and that their general support of the project is only tentative. The Chamber does not want to see the tax base utilized to build or operate the facility, and doubts it could be self-supporting, since there is a danger of duplication of facilities and since there are already other facilities which are not fully utilized.

Building Society Chairman Marshall Kachmar noted, regarding the Chamber letter, that the group has "never suggested accessing the tax base—we haven't even asked anyone for funding, to date." He noted that while several community organizations donated funding toward the feasibility study for a new Community Centre, "they apparently haven't read it." The Society's representative from the Community Services Board, Stephen Montgomery, feels it is "unfortunate that groups have the impression that funding will come from taxes, when this has never been our intent."

The group then went through a list of areas in the proposed facility, giving input on each. The 380 square metre hall, being slightly larger than the top floor of the Elks Hall, was a good size according to all groups present except for the Town, who feel it could be downsized. The 90 square metre performance stage needs to be at least that large, if not larger, to fill requirements for the Ukrainian Dance Club, while it was suggested that stage storage for props, etc., should be at stage level and should have an outside loading door to which trucks could back up.

The 50 square metre kitchen area should have professional input as to layout, but does not need to be equipped immediately. Change rooms, janitor's facilities and public washrooms were all discussed briefly. A ticket booth was deemed unnecessary, but a secure cloakroom was agreed to as a must.

A suggestion was made that the foyer could be equipped with display cases to house a variety of items of interest to visitors. Community offices were felt to be suitable as outlined in the plan.

Meeting rooms were discussed at some length. The plan calls for a 60 square metre room, capacity 20 people, and two 25 square metre rooms, capacity 10 people, but it was generally felt that one large meeting room and one medium, with 15 person capacity, would be adequate. Storage rooms for user groups are very important, and some should have access from the foyer, it was felt.

Far from being downsized, it was suggested that the area allocated to Playschool should be enlarged from 75 to 90 square metres, while the Parent Nursery would need 75 square metres. Thought was also given to changing a proposed fitness room into a day care facility.

Upon careful study of the two varying plans which have been provided by the architect, Society members had mixed feelings, liking the idea of an east entry, but also speaking in favor of the centralized entry in the other plan.

The input gathered at the meeting will be the focus of a meeting with the architect engaged by the Society, which has been scheduled for this evening.

Elk Point Beavers Kyle Frisby (left) and Chance Dumont proudly display their first and second prize cakes at last Wednesday's Family Scouting Banquet. Kyle's cake topped the cake auction which followed with a sale price of $110, while Chance again placed second with a price of $95. Both cakes reflect this year's theme of "Trees for Canada." Town Council studies infrastructure upgrading

An engineering report centred on storm sewers and utility line upgrading studied by Elk Point Town Council at their February 25 meeting has indicated that this project could cost as much as $1.7 million, and might not entirely solve Elk Point's storm drainage problems.

Land contours on 54 and 51 Avenues are such that the large storm sewer lines would be deeply buried at one end, and close to the surface at the other, and this would leave the shallower portion at risk to freezeups, Council was told. The report also calls for replacement of a substantial amount of water lines, as well as paving, curbs and gutters for the areas where the storm sewers would be installed. In spite of the costly improvements, the report indicates that the present drainage ditches should be left in, in case of very heavy runoff from a major storm, which the storm sewers might not be capable of handling.

Council will be meeting with Stanley Associates Engineering representatives at an upcoming meeting to discuss the report in depth and to find out how the work could be done in phases, as funding permits.

Other business coming before Council included the opening of tenders for the 1991 supply of fuel required by the Town. A bid presented by UFA was awarded the contract.

The appointment of Muriel Holthe to the Community Services Board for a two year term expiring in December, 1992 was ratified by Council. Mrs. Holthe will represent the Pioneer Circle on that board.

Boarding of dogs captured by Elk Point's Bylaw Officer and the subsequent disposal of unclaimed dogs was discussed, subsequent to correspondence from Karen Reed of Rhodrin Kennels, who indicated she is no longer interested in performing this duty. Alternatives included building a kennel, which would be subject to numerous regulations and could prove costly, or delivering the dogs either to the St. Paul Veterinary Clinic or to the Town of St. Paul Public Works Department, which operates such a facility, which would mean time consuming trips to deliver the animals. Council decided to advertise for a local contractor willing to board captured dogs and dispose of them as required.

A memorandum of agreement between the Mural Park Development Committee and the Elk Point Curling Club authorizing the use of a small slice of land behind the curling rink for park development was agreed to by Council.

A proposal for BIAC funding which has been prepared by the Bicentennial Celebrations Committee was brought before Council, and was given subsequent approval. The proposal includes a $25,000 budget, with half of that funding to come from BIAC, and the matching 50 percent from the Town. The

Two charter members of the Elk Point Lions Club were recently presented with plaques honoring their twenty years of membership. Lions President Doug Basset made the presentation to Lawrence Modin (left) and John Williams. The pin-decked vests worn by the longtime members attest to the many events and visits to other Lions Clubs that they have taken part in over the past two decades.

Town to make a bid for NLLS headquarters

Town portion consists of the $2000 in startup funding already allocated to the Committee, $4800 in the form of the use of an office, $600 worth of office supplies and photocopying, and $5100 worth of volunteer labor by members of the Bicentennial Committee. If this proposal is approved by BIAC, the Bicentennial Committee would then approach Community Futures for a matching amount, with the total then sufficient to contract with a consultant for a year to implement plans for the Bicentennial celebration.

Town Council representative Adele Mandryk reported to Council on the February 23 meeting of the Northern Lights Library System in Elk Point. At that meeting, a motion was passed by a 9-4 margin recinding a previous motion ratifying Vegreville as the location of the System headquarters. The NLLS goal is to get establishment funding during 1991, and it has been deemed politically astute to move the headquarters location out of Vegreville, which is in a NDP constituency. Vegreville does meet the requirements for a headquarters location, Ms Mandryk noted, "but so do other towns." Vegreville has indicated that they will not pull out of the system if the headquarters is moved, but will lobby the government not to let the change take place. The rest of the communities "joined because they wanted the system, not to get the headquarters," Ms Mandryk added.

The next NLLS meeting is scheduled for March 23 in Kitscoty, a community which did not apply to be the headquarters site, and at that time, the System Board will consider submissions of a maximum two page length from both towns which did apply to be the headquarters site, and those which did not. Council agreed that Elk Point will make such a submission.

An application for positions under the SEED Program was referred to the Finance Committee, for discussion of number of positions required as indicated by the Municipal Budget.

Mayor Bruce Kleeberger reported to Council on the NADC Forum in St. Paul which was attended by himself and Councillor Louis Verhagen on behalf of the Town. He commented that the forum was "useful and interesting...but wore thin" due to the numerous briefs dealing with the Lakeland Park. Councillor Verhagen added that Billie Milholland's brief regarding the Bicentennial was "refreshing-she was asking for ideas, not money."

Medals for Elk Point

On Saturday, February 23, 1991, the Elk Point Figure Skating Club participated in Marwayne's Open Freeski Competition. Some of these young ladies had never participated in a skating competition prior to this but admirably hid any nervousness they might have been feeling. After practicing hard every week over the past several months, it was time to done costumes and skates.

By the end of an exciting day, 3 of Elk Point's skaters had arrived at podium to receive medals.

These talented young ladies were: Melanie Johnson, coached by Sandra Lindenback, gold medal; Kandice Bjornstad, coached by Toby Conrad, silver medal; and Vickie Kleeberger, coached by Pattie Ann Laboucane, bronze medals. These three - medalists all competed in the Ladies Pre-preliminary Event.

The skaters will all be displaying their talents at the Winter Carnival on March 22, a date to mark now on your calendar. It will definitely be a night to remember!

In Our View

Endings and beginnings

Irene Magnusson

March is in the process, as I write this, of roaring in like the predictable lion, huffing and puffing North wind at us, shoving that ill-treated snow about once more. The huff and puff is predicted to be short-lived, and we should soon be back in the global warming trend again, with mud splashing and lengthening days.

If we can rejoice in tales of the burgeoning blossoms amid the eternal green of the coastal cities of the west, we can watch sharply for our own first golden splash of dandelion on the leese of the house.

Today we are rejoicing in the cessation of the Gulf War, hopefully the end of the butchery and destruction of the past six weeks, and the time leading up to January 15th. All the street-cluttering peaceniks can go home now, comb their beards and think up some other way to insinuate their dim ideas into other affairs. Certainly, we should be able to use their midwinter camp-out on Edmonton streets to demonstrate and advertise the year-round vacation! This should bring in quantities of recreation seekers, for next winter.

Perhaps they'll be tempted to donate their now unneeded sleeping bags to the inhabitants of Kuwait, where probably many are sleeping in the streets, as they look for their loved ones and try to reestablish their demolished homes.

Then again, all those who think and only rotten things to say against the United States and its president, could consider how (non) reassuring it would feel to live next door, with an undefended border, to ... say ... a country like Iraq, and its Saddam Hussien, and remember that the United States has had atomic weaponry for around 50 years - along with all that other armament - and we never lose a moment's sleep over it. (I'm sure they have the horrible gas and missiles, etc., etc., too.) What they don't have is the vicious leaders or government and greedy grabber instincts prevalent in some countries - regardless of what the whiners and weepers say.

I, for one, am happy to live next door to the U.S. of A. And I'm even happier to be doing it in Canada. So, now the war is off the top of the list, we can get back to complaining and grouching about our own country, and how it is run.

Hot off the griddle is Michael Wilson's annual Budget, cooked up to designate how the wherewithal of our country's tax income is blotted. What a job to undertake! I presume Mike's second name is Aladdin, for he would indeed need to have a genie in hand, to help solve this problem!

I listened and watched the almost-2-hour long speech, as Wilson nimbly swung back and forth from English to French to English again, and got a kick out of the interpreters' translations, as they read

Welcome Oilmen

A warm Elk Point welcome to all those who are coming to town this weekend to take part in the Eighth Annual Oilmen's Bonspiel. We have been on hand for this very successful event every year since its inception, and always look forward to the fine, competitive curling that takes place.

A total of 44 rinks are slated to take part in the action, which starts very early Thursday morning. This is up four rinks from last year, and is by far the biggest bonspiel to take place here this year.

It's good to see that the extremely poor crude oil prices which are causing layoffs and cutbacks have not disheartened the industry so much that they cannot lay aside their workday worries for the weekend and enjoy this major event to the fullest. Good curling and good fellowship is sure to give all who take part a much needed break.

Have a fine time, everyone, and enjoy the bonspiel.

Calling all clubs

Cutbacks--these days they're everywhere, even in the newspaper industry. One of these cutbacks, we're sorry to say, is going to be in the level of reporter coverage we are able to give local groups and their activities.

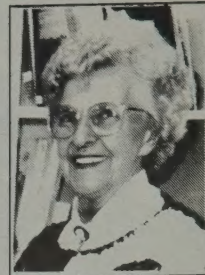

We are not able to send a reporter to regular meetings of clubs, and we would encourage each of these groups to designate a person to jot down the highlights of their meetings which the organization would like the community to know about, and bring or send a report into the Review. Please make sure your report contains the writer's name and phone number in case we have any questions. We will,

of course, be happy to attend any major functions, or to take pictures of special events, if you give us sufficient notice and if our schedule permits. Remember--if you don't tell us an event is on, we may not know about it and may not be there. An alternative to this is for you to take the picture and bring us in a clear print. Color pictures are just fine! In that case, please put your name and phone number on the picture so it may be returned, and write a short caption to go along with it.

The Review endeavors to give Elk Point and district the best news coverage possible, and with your help, we can continue to do just that.

their notes - occasionally a few lines ahead of Mr. Wilson! However, they got through it, and I couldn't see anything very drastic or unreasonable about the proposals. A tight, conservative plan for a country in recession, up past its eyeballs in debt, and not planning for too much pie in the sky.

Of course, there must be howls, growls and yowls - how else to run a country? - but, thank goodness, some reason may prevail. There are many things one could comment on - but some speak for themselves.

Back for a moment to this new month on the block - March. This is a 31-day month, third of the year, the one that brings us spring. Spring is set to pounce on us at 8:02 p.m., on March 20th, which will be 12 hour, 08 minute day, the sun rising at 6:02 a.m. and setting at 6:15 p.m. The Full Sap moon will rise over us on March 30, called Passover, this Saturday between Good Friday and Easter Sunday. It's possible to have all the snow gone in March, but not too likely. There could be crows, sightings of gophers, ducks and the odd spear of grass, along a southern wall.

Here could also be blizzards and snow banks, calves frozen in the bitter cold. But at last it will end, giving way to April, which on occasion has been a nice friendly month. The seed catalogues will get a going over in March, and some seeds will be sown.

St. Patrick's Day will, as usual, be noted to fall on the 17th of March, this year a Sunday, and may bring out the usual shades of green, a few 'Begorras' and some references to the Old Sod, but we, as a whole, are not sincere adherers to the mores of Old Ireland. At most, a few sham-rocks will be worn.

Our Past

Steve Andrishak

The first ferry to operate in the Elk Point area was the Hopkins Ferry. It was located three miles west of our present bridge site.

This ferry was installed in 1908 with John Ross being the first ferryman. He held this position for a number of years.

This ferry gave the early settlers an outlet to the south and also gave the settlers to the south a chance to buy their supplies in Elk Point rather than having to go all the way to Vermilion.

In 1914 another ferry was installed in the general area of where our bridge is located. The first ferryman was Charles Magnusson and he was followed by Ole Jacobson, Alf Monkman and Harry Keck. Paul Gusnowski who lived a half a mile south of the river was also employed there for a number of years.

In 1919 someone purposely cut the Hopkins Ferry loose and down the river it went. Somehow or other it was stopped about ten miles east of Elk Point and rather than float it back to its original site it was installed at that point. It was then called Moosewaw Ferry and it served the people in that area for a number of years.

Instead of relocating at Hopkins, another ferry was installed in 1920 about six miles west of the Elk Point ferry and for years it was known as Spencer's Crossing.

During the many years of operation, a few accidents occurred at the Elk Point site, some which could have proven disastrous. In the middle 1930's Bill Soldan was hauling grain with his truck. As he approached the north bank of the river he suddenly broke through the river ice. His hind wheels sank to the bottom, however his front wheels didn't and so he remained in an inclined position for a number of hours. He was finally winched out but only after he lost his entire load of grain.

In 1939 another accident occurred at this site which is worth relating. Just prior to the break up of the river ice a number of teenagers including myself went to the river to watch the annual event. With the river ice being unsafe to cross, a steel cage was in operation and it took the passengers across the river.

Our Past - River crossings over the Saskatchewan River near Elk Point

Someone suggested going across in the cage and the operator, Harry Keck, soon had us loaded up, and we were away. When we had reached the middle point of the river, the heavy wooden anchor on the south bank pulled out of the ground and down we fell about eighteen feet. About this time the heavy wooden beam which was attached to the cable above came crashing down on top of the cage and narrowly missed slicing our heads off. Luckily the cage didn't roll upon impact, otherwise there would have been a few deaths or serious injuries. As it ended up we all received a number of bad bruises and a good shaking up. A few minutes later were picked up by boat and taken to shore. The remains of the steel cage moved about a hundred feet down the river about an hour later and by supper time the entire river ice was completely gone.

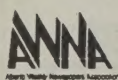

If my memory serves me right the following passengers on that ill fated ride were Floyd Cromwell, Harry Keck, Sam Soldan, Peter Andrishak, Jim Hutter, Bob Quinn and myself.

Family Scouting Banquet

Scouts, Beavers, their leaders, families and special guests turned out in large numbers last Wednesday evening to honor the memory of Scouting founder Lord Baden Powell at the annual Elk Point Scouting Banquet.

Those in attendance were welcomed by Karen Reed, as the evening opened with a Color Parade of the members and leaders. Following grace by Rev. Sam Donaldson, a fine potluck meal was enjoyed by all. Stewart Povaschuk gave the Toast to the Queen, while Regan Nelson toasted Lord Baden Powell, Nathan Harper toasted the leaders and Clinton Povaschuk the parents. Deanna Easthope replied to the toast to the parents with a poem which related the theory that both trees and people grow strong through competition.

Presentations were made to a number of people dedicated to Scouting in various ways: Diane Young, Walter Skolarchuk, Marshall Kachmar, Tim Zarowny, Bill Jennissen, Lawrence Modin, Rev. Donaldson, Deputy Mayor Adele Mandryk, Lions Club representatives Charlie Mahon and George Hahn, Service Scouter Wayne Hudson and Many Lakes District President Grant Nixon.

District Commissioner Roxanne Ringuette was presented with a very special canoe paddle bearing a photograph of herself and the Scouts on last summer's canoe expedition, while Scouter Pat Johnson was presented with a photo taken as he relaxed along the river on that trip.

Tim Zarowny of Norcen Energy Resources presented Scouters Pat Johnson and Ed Zarowny with a $250 donation toward the Scouts' trip to this summer's Jamboree.

Adele Mandryk, who represented the Town of Elk Point at the banquet, thanked the Scouting Association for this opportunity "to find out what Scouting is all about." She added her feeling that "Organizations such as yours strengthen our community."

Cindy Nelson brought greetings from the Group Committee, while Diane Huffman thanked the Lions Club for their support over the year.

District Commissioner Ringuette commended the Elk Point group for "Wonderful Scouting" and said that Elk Point has one of the busiest Scouting Associations in Many Lakes District. She then led one of her favorite action songs, and joined the Beavers as they led a second number.

Awards for the 'best dressed' cake competition, judged by Rev. Donaldson, Wayne Hudson, Charlie Mahon and your reporter, were then presented, with Kyle Frisby placing first, Chance Dumont second, Brett Flanders third and Darren Pilisko fourth. Bidding was brisk in the cake auction which followed, with auctioneer Walter Skolarchuk presiding, and the top selling cake netting $110, while the second went for $95, third for $80 and fourth for $52.50, the other 21 cakes also selling at good prices and all profits going to the Scouting Association.

OIL RECOVERY ALBERTA

Every year, in ditches and drains, Canada's backyard mechanics pour away some 250 million litres of used oil – or more than six times as much oil as was spilled in the Exxon Valdez disaster.

Not only that, say the United Farmers of Alberta, but we're throwing away a resource that has cost us millions to discover, extract and refine. Their solution? An imaginative new program called OIL RECOVERY ALBERTA – in which rural residents will be able to return used oil to their nearest UFA Co-op.

As a public service, UFA will accept unpolluted engine oil, hydraulic and gear oils, and automatic transmission fluid for cleaning and recycling. It all starts this spring – with the installation of special collection tanks at participating UFA agencies. OIL RECOVERY ALBERTA will also collect the plastic oil containers for proper disposal or recycling. Ask your local UFA agent for details.

How You Can Help Conserve Canada's Water in the Kitchen

- 1) Don't run the water continuously when you wash dishes by hand. Wash them in partially filled sink, then rinse with a faucet spray attachment.
- 2) The same goes for washing vegetables. Wash them in a partially filled sink, then rinse under a tap quickly.
- 3) Keep a bottle of drinking water in your fridge instead of running your tap until the water cools each time you want a drink of water.
- 4) Turn off your taps tightly so they don't drip.
- 5) Promptly repair leaks in and around your taps and faucets (One leak can waste several thousand litres of water each year.)
- 6) Use an aerator and / or water flow reducer attachment in your sink faucets. This will reduce your water usage.

Imperial Oil Donates to Building Fund

On behalf of Imperial Oil Limited, Tony Bochon presents a cheque for $1000 to Grace Barwick and Lillian Palinka for the Pioneer Circle Building Fund, while Pioneer Circle President Morris Cooper leads a round of applause. The presentation was made February 28 at the Pioneer Circle Hall, where floor curling was in progress. The amount was later added to the Building Fund Thermometer, shown at left with Sid Holthe and Tony Bochon marking the approximate new total. The thermometer was created and donated by Ralph Kryvenchuk to show the 'temperature' of the rising building fund. We hope it will be a "hot" year!

What's news at the library?

Quotes taken from 'The Read-Aloud Handbook' by Jim Trelease to help us understand the importance of reading in our children's lives:

'Few children learn to love books by themselves. Someone has to lure them into the wonderful world of the written word; someone has to show them the way'.

'Children who are not spoken to by live and responsive adults will not learn to speak properly. Children who are not answered, will stop asking questions. Children who are not told stories and who are not read to will have few reasons for wanting to learn to read'.

The Elk Point Public Library has a collection of 2500 children's books and 2800 juvenile books to choose from. Encourage your children. Bring them to the library and help them select books they would like to hear and read.

New Books:

The war in the Gulf is still fresh in our minds. We have just acquired the picture book 'Jet Combat' Hot and high, fast and low by Ian Black. Be among the first to view the detailed pictures of many of the planes

The library has just received Danielle Steel's new best selling novel 'Heartbeat'. In her 27th novel Danielle Steel touches the Heartbeat of two wonderful people as their friendship deepens into love, as they meet the obstacles that life presents and face the future together with humor, humanity and courage.

Everyone has been talking about Pierre Burton's new book "The Great Depression 1929 - 1939" - The most searing decade in Canadian history began in 1929, symbolized by the stock market crash, and ended in 1939 when the Second World War created jobs for everybody. Pierre Burton concentrates on people in his writings, which makes this book stand out from other books about the Great Depression.

'The Wealthy Barber' by David Chilton - This book was highly recommended by other librarians. For those who have hoped for simple and sensible answers to the complicated world of money, this story is the best value you'll find anywhere. The common sense guide to successful financial planning.

Heinsburg 4-H'ers speak out

Public Speaking competition held March 1

Five members of the Heinsburg 4-H Multi Club held their annual Public Speaking competition on Friday, March 1 at Heinsburg Community School.

Lily Thomson, with a well thought out prepared speech on "War-What Does It Really Mean?" will represent Heinsburg in the Senior Division at the upcoming District 4-H Speak Off, while Daleen Gunderson, with a prepared speech on "My Trip To Los Angeles" will represent the club in the Junior Division.

David Skolarchuk, speaking on the interesting habits of the Octopus, placed second in the Juniors. Jamie Bristow, with a speech on "My Vacation" and C. J. Best, with his theories on "How To Break A Horse," made up the balance of the program.

The speeches were judged by Brian Tucker and Lorne Young, who said it was a very close competition, with only a few points between speakers. Sharon Gunderson and Lori Best were timekeepers and Anne Bristow served as teller. Jon Best acted as MC for the speak off.

Heinsburg 4-H Speakers

Saddle Slickers plan speak-off

March is Public Speaking Month for 4-H members across Alberta. During this month 4-H members will be presenting their prepared speeches on various subjects at the club, district and regional level.

On March 3, the members from the Elk Point Saddle Slickers 4-H Club will be practising their speeches at their regular club meeting in preparation for the Club Speak-offs at the Heritage Lodge on March 13 at 6:00 p.m. Winners from the Junior and Senior categories will be competing at District Level at Heinsburg on Sunday, March 17.

The Winter Fling was hosted by the Tulliby Lake 4-H Club on Feb. 8 and 9. Jaylene Purdy represented the Elk Point Saddle Slickers and attended sessions on Cake Decorating, Chocolate Making, Figure Skating and Nylon Braided Belts. February third was the last 4-H meeting held at the Babcock's residence.

The main part of the meeting was about 4-H speakoffs. Shanna Baker our secretary read the minutes from the previous meeting and Kyle Bintz, our treasurer, gave the treasurer's report. Jaylene read the news reports from the Saddle Slickers and then showed pictures of the Cookie Drive from last December. The next meeting for the Elk Point Saddle Slickers will be held at Yvette Laux' residence on Sunday, March 3rd.

4-H Winter Fling '91

The Tulliby Lake Comuniplex was home to approximately 67 junior 4-H members for the evening of February 8th, and all day, February 9th. These 4-H members were participating in the Northeast Region's 4-H Winter Fling '91. This fun-filled, learning experience was hosted by the Tulliby Lake 4-H Multi Club

The fun began Friday evening with a skating party. The skating party was fun for all those who put on their skates to participate in a variety of games. The evening wrapped up with a wiener roast over a roaring bonfire! And then, everyone rolled out their sleeping bags for the indoor campout!

The 4-H members spent Saturday morning attending 4 different "hands on" select-a-sessions. They participated in a variety of sessions which included cake decorating, chocolate making, snowmobile and gun handling, figure skating, band boxes, bottle whirly gigs, skating, roping, woodworking and braiding nylon belts. Many thanks to all the resource people who shared their skills and talents with the 4-H members. The 4-H members took part in a game of "4-H Wheel of Fortune". They were quizzed on a variety of areas within the 4-H program. The indoor rodeo events provided terrific exercise and lots of laughs for the members!

The day wrapped up with presentations to the members and Thank You's to everyone involved in setting up this program.

The tired, 4-H members went home with a new batch of friends, experiences and memories of 4-H Winter Fling '91!

Canada Day planning well underway

No less than a dozen organizations were represented at the February 20 meeting of the Canada Day Committee, and although the group has not yet found a chairperson, they have set plans in motion for a fulfilled event on the June 29-July 1 long weekend.

A three day list of activities is being planned, with a ball tournament starting off the program on Saturday and continuing through the weekend, with a dance Saturday evening. Other events suggested for Sunday's part of the program include a display of Combined Driving by the Light Horse Club, which has several enthusiasts who compete in this exhibition of horse driving skill.

Canada Day will once again begin with a raft race, Elks Lodge representative Lawrence Pidluzny told the committee. He has already heard from a number of would-be rafters who hope to take part, and feels there will be a sizeable increase in entries over last year's successful race.

The Lioness Club will again host the parade, and is establishing a separate area for setup and judging of horse drawn entries and horses and riders, some distance from the area where the balance of parade participants will line up for judging. A suggestion was made that candy not be thrown from floats, but instead that persons could accompany the floats on foot to toss candy to the crowds along the sidewalk.

A pipe band has been hired to take part in the parade, and also to entertain during the afternoon. Other entertainment being considered includes a fiddling contest and a Red River Jig competition, as well as the usual complement of talent, including our own very popular Ukrainian Dance Club members, and hopefully a return visit from the Bonnyville Skipperos.

Two events with a Bicentennial theme have been suggested. How would you like to take part in an Outhouse Race? Or how about a Canoe Portage Race, where you carry your canoe and its load through an obstacle course in the shortest possible time?

More events and activities are needed to fill out the program. Make sure your group has a representative at the Canada Day Committee's March 19 meeting to bring your ideas along!

Lioness club hosts theatre

The Elk Point & District Lioness Club are very pleased to bring live theatre to Elk Point. They have been able to secure the extremely popular Mannville & Area Performing Arts Society for a presentation of their 1991 production - 'Bye Bye Birdie'. The rollicking musical comedy will be held March 16 at 7:00 p.m. at the Elk Point Elementary School.

If you remember the days of poodle skirts, chinos, ducktails and ponytails, or if you simply like an evening of good entertainment, this show is for you.

This award winning Broadway musical brings back the rock'n'roll era and the age old conflict between parents and teenagers.

The Mannville theatre group plays to capacity crowds each year and this year's production of 'Bye Bye Birdie' promises to be a hit. Mark March 16 on your calendar and be sure to attend.

Included in the $15 ticket price are appetizers prior to the performance and at intermission, and

Library outreach program

The Elk Point Public is proud of its Outreach Program to the residents of the Heritage Lodge. This volunteer program has been successfully in operation for over the last year.

Bea Williams was the first volunteer to deliver outreach material, but this has been done by both volunteers and staff. This material consists of Large Print books, talking books and tape recorder, magazines and illustrated books. Margaret Young circulates the material to the residents every two weeks. The work of our volunteers is invaluable to the library. This outreach program is one of the many services the library has to offer our community.

Service With A Smile

Margaret Young sets up the display of books she has brought to the Heritage Lodge seniors, who often find it difficult to visit the library but still enjoy reading a good book on a chilly winter day.

PTA meets March 13

The F. G. Miller High School Parent-Teacher Association has scheduled their next meeting for Wednesday, March 13 at 7:00 p.m. in the school.
